

WARSAN SAVED, REDS REPULSED, SAY POLES

POLES RETAIN INITIATIVE, HOLD INVADERS IN CHECK

PARIS, Aug. 17.—Warsaw is holding out well, according to the latest news tonight. The Poles, who were beginning to repeat their old despairing cry of 1831, "God is too high and France too far," fortified by the counsel of France's expert soldiers, have plucked up spirits with immediate effect.

While it is too soon to forecast the favorable issue of the great battle raging near Warsaw, the Poles appear to retain the initiative they took Saturday and continue to hold the Bolsheviks in check.

In the southeast, on the Western Bug, they have scored notable successes. Nevertheless, the situation with Warsaw threatened from three sides, undoubtedly remains serious. Everything depends on the ability of the Poles to keep up their tactics.

It is considered significant in military circles that the Moscow wireless has been unusually silent today.

POLES URGE QUICK HELP FOR WARSAW

Los Angeles Mass Meeting Adopts Resolutions; Text to White House Today.

Continued moral support of the cause of Poland, coupled with such material aid as the United States may consider giving to the Warsaw government, are urged upon President Wilson in resolutions adopted here Sunday at a mass meeting of American citizens of Polish descent, the text of which was given out yesterday.

The Sunday mass meeting, which was held at the Polish Public Library at Vernon avenue and Lima street, was part of a nation-wide movement to rally the Polish people and conform to the text of similar resolutions wired here from Polish organizations at Chicago and New York. The resolutions were adopted by a vote of 100 to 10.

The resolutions, which were presented at the White House, probably today, with similar resolutions adopted in hundreds of cities and towns in this country.

The resolutions praise President Wilson's note to Italy of the 18th inst., in which he outlined the policy of this government to be employed in the settlement of the Polish question. The text declares that approximately 6,000,000 Poles have become American citizens and have loyally supported the policies of the nation at all times.

AMERICANS HOSTAGES.

Virtual Prisoners of Moscow Reds.

Thousand Foreigners Are Ashing Governments for Early Help.

United States Considered Most Uncompromising of All Nations.

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
TOKYO (Finland), Russian frontiers Aug. 17.—A thousand foreigners, including thirty-five Americans, are at Moscow, hoping for action by their governments to get them out before winter. They include, besides the Americans, 100 French, 100 British and 100 German.

Aside from thirty-five of undoubted American citizenship, there are many claiming American citizenship who have gathered from all parts of Russia because of the improving living conditions. They are the last of Russia's peasant foreign residents.

Inquiries by the Associated Press correspondent before his departure to Finland from Moscow because he had not received advance notice of authorization for a trip from Vladivostok to Moscow, developed that many foreigners have been refused in Moscow and are being held in the French zone of the frontier and then released because of the attitude of France toward the Bolsheviks.

YANKERS HOSTAGES.

The Americans say their status is worse than the other foreigners. They are held virtually as hostages while the Soviet tries to force Washington to negotiate officially with Moscow or Bolshevik officials. The United States the most uncompromising of all nations in her attitude toward the Bolsheviks, who are as antagonistic as the British or French.

Five Americans are known to be imprisoned. Among them are Dr. W. H. Stinson, geologist, and his wife, who recently arrived from Siberia. The others are Dr. R. C. Keesler, a man named Grant and a naturalized Greek named Calamitopoulos, who has been imprisoned a year and a half. The prisoners are incommunicable. Dr. W. H. Stinson, an American mining engineer, is not permitted to leave his quarters. He is being held in the German zone, where the Bolsheviks are demanding his services there.

Amphibians who have arrived in Russia from America are declared not wanted.

DETAILS ARE GIVEN.
The thirty-five individuals only those who have passports or papers proving citizenship. Corp. Arthur Prince of Detroit, an American soldier recently released from prison, has given the only detailed information regarding the American personnel.

Until two months ago, a British relief organization worked in Moscow. Upon its departure its funds were given to the Americans, but these are virtually exhausted. A French relief organization has sent food to the imprisoned Americans since then, but this relief will end with departure of the French, expected soon. The Americans have nothing of their own. Foreigners are not permitted to leave the city. The Red Cross in Finland detailed information regarding the American personnel.

Treatment accorded foreigners reflects an attitude toward Russia that is unfavorable to the Bolsheviks. July 24, when some refugees left, fifty British subjects with permission to leave were taken on the train and are still held.

DECLARES LIVE-STOCK COMMISSIONS UNJUST.

SECRETARY MEREDETH FORBIDS CHARGING ADVANCED RATES FOR SALES.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—Declaring the increase unjust, Secretary Meredith today ordered license commission men at the principal stock yards to cease charging the advanced commission rates on sales of livestock put into effect August 3 last.

They were forbidden to charge in excess of rates promulgated on July 1 last. The order was given until next Saturday to comply with the order, which affects those at the stockyards in Chicago, St. Louis, Omaha and the National stockyards in East St. Louis.

Announcement was made that executive rates also would be discontinued when found to exist at live-stock exchanges where the Department of Agriculture has no representatives.

BEAN MEN IN CONVENTION TO FORM NATIONAL ASSOCIATION.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
CHICAGO, Aug. 17.—Mr. Boston Bean, prominent both in civilian and military circles, again comes into the spotlight today, this time as the central figure of a national convention.

Despite his name, Mr. Bean is not really a resident of Boston, members of his family being few and far between in the State of Massachusetts.

Mr. Bean hails largely from California, New Mexico, Colorado, Michigan and New York, and men intensely interested in his future welfare were in Chicago today to organize the National Bean Association.

The meeting is under the direction of E. E. Doty of Genesee, N. Y., and those in attendance are jobbers, brokers, shippers, elevator owners, growers and representatives of the various State associations connected with the bean industry.

This is the first time an effort has been made to form a national association of bean men. Mr. Doty said today. "The State associations have long been active, but there has been no nationwide co-operation. The proposed national association will elect officers and start the machinery running through which every man who is interested in beans will be brought into touch with the national body."

Officers will be elected at the closing session of the convention tomorrow afternoon.

SOVIET ARMY BEATEN BACK.

The Poles, in following up their counter-offensive, have advanced along the entire northern front. They have pushed the Russians back from the Western Rusek and Klebanow, the Soviet forces retreating while Polish aviators fired on them with machine guns.

RIVER CROSSING HALTED.
The statement says the Polish army, who had planned to cross the Vistula southeast of Warsaw in the region of Maciejowice (thirty-five miles from Warsaw) were forced back.

The right wing of the Fourth Polish Army, in breaking the Soviet resistance at (Kock thirty-two miles south of Siedlec) took 200 Russian prisoners, captured some cannon and four machine guns.

It was announced last evening that the west bank of the Vistula had been cleared of the Bolsheviks and a detachment which had crossed to the northwest of Plock. The Soviet forces were making an effort to break through the Polish line of communication with Danzig.

COUNTER SUCCESSFUL.
(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
PARIS, Aug. 17.—The French Foreign Office this evening reported successful Polish counter-offensives from the Vistula to the Polish corridor, and along the entire southern front.

Several successful counter attacks have been launched in the neighborhood of Cholyn, on the southwestern front. Russian forces, which had crossed the Bug have been hurled back across that stream, and the region of Modlin, northwest of Warsaw, the Poles have begun a counter-offensive, directing their attack in the direction of Warsaw.

Military critics said the situation was better than for some time. The battle of Cholyn may be a precursor of an offensive designed to drive southward Soviet forces engaged against Warsaw. It was said that the Polish situation was placed in the Polish attack near Modlin, as being considered that simultaneous attacks from both banks of the Soviet army would be rash.

DRIVE TOWARDS WARSAW.

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
LONDON, Aug. 17.—The Soviet forces are continuing their attack upon Warsaw in the region northeast of Nowo Georgievsk, the powerful front. Russian forces, which had crossed the Bug have been hurled back across that stream, and the region of Modlin, northwest of Warsaw, the Poles have begun a counter-offensive, directing their attack in the direction of Warsaw.

KAMENOFF WRITES.

Soviet Russia, through M. Kameneff, head of her trade mission here, has asked Premier Lloyd George to protest against the British attitude toward Gen. Wrangel, commander of anti-Bolshevik forces in the Crimea.

In a letter to the Premier, M. Kameneff quotes all dispatches exchanged between the British and Soviet governments concerning Gen. Wrangel, beginning with the dispatch from Karl Curzon to George Tchitcherine, Bolshevik Foreign Minister, on April 14. It was this message which urged a termination of hostilities and the disbandment of Gen. Wrangel's troops on the basis of amnesty being granted.

M. Kameneff declares this dispatch induced the Soviet government to refrain from military measures which would have rendered Gen. Wrangel powerless, and he speaks in it as it was British independence relative to the Russian policy which encouraged Gen. Wrangel and led to the present situation and recognition of Gen. Wrangel by France. He intimates that Great Britain is largely responsible for this recognition being extended.

WRANGLER'S FORCE LARGER.

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
SEBASTOPOL, Aug. 13 (Delayed in transmission). The military forces of Gen. Wrangel now aggregate about 150,000, one-third of whom are high-class troops.

Russian officers estimate that the opposing Bolshevik forces number 100,000. Their equipment is superior to the Soviet forces and 100,000 reserves.

SOUTH RUSSIA REJOICES.
Gen. Wrangel's recognition by France and announcement that a French diplomatic would be sent here caused great rejoicing in the South Russian army. The Russian and other European powers to follow this action.

Peter Skryev, Wrangel's Minister of Foreign Affairs, returning from Paris, told the Associated Press correspondent all South Russia would rally to the general command.

Wrangel's policy is actually giving the land to the peasants. He is assuring land owners that they will be paid eventually. His wife went to Constantinople.

LEADER A PRINCE.
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
WITH THE RUSSIAN TROOPS.
Aug. 17.—The commander-in-chief of the Russian western army is a former Prince, but is now known as plain Comrade Tuchasevich.

The director of the Russian army is particularly strong on a thorough training and political instruction for the troops in each division. Each division, accordingly, has a school, usually about a hundred miles back of the front.

OFFICERS IN TRAINING.
Frequently the best officers are sent from the front to instruct in these schools, where fifty or more noncommissioned officers are in training for commissions.

The infantry is poorly clothed, but their equipment is good. Their artillery is good, but its efficiency is lessened by reason of the poor supply of ammunition.

At the beginning of the offensive the food was very poor, but as a fresh supply is being received, the army advances, it is now much better. Each regiment has a fund of $500,000 to be used for purchasing food.

Several Russian officers told me that preparations for this offensive have begun last February, when the Russian representative, sent out several members of the intelligence corps to investigate.

ORDER FOR ATTACK.
On July 3 the order to attack was given. Each division knew in advance its objective. The first day they were to advance twenty-five miles. The breakthrough of the Polish lines succeeded as planned, everywhere, except where the Eighteenth Division was held up by the Polish Posen Division, which is composed of former German troops.

The cavalry was then massed behind the infantry and was used for flanking purposes. However, a stubborn sector impeded the general advance. This method of attack was first worked out successfully against Gen. Yudenich. The Fourth Division Russian army having the Danzig corridor as its objective was composed of three corps of Cossack cavalry and eleven infantry divisions, or a total of 60,000 infantry troops and 30,000 mounted men.

The message declares that the sympathy of British workmen toward Soviet Russia "will unite the workers of Great Britain and Russia into a strong fraternal labor union against which no intrigues of the international bourgeoisie can prevail."

WISCONSIN IS FORGING AHEAD.

Agriculture Not Hit by Lack of Hired Farm Labor.

All Farmers Are Prosperous; Use of Tractors Prevails.

State's Crops Increased by Diversified Planting.

BY ARTHUR M. EVANS.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

KILBOURN (Wisc.) Aug. 17.—Wisconsin has not been at all hard hit by the boggy man "shortage of farm labor" if one may judge from the testimony of farmers along the 115-mile stretch from La Crosse to Kilbourn by way of Baraboo.

Diversified farming has been developed more highly than in most agricultural States.

The result has been that work on the farm has been spread over a longer season. Instead of everything ripening at once, and piling a top load on the farmer to harvest everything on the farm at one time, the wheat sections, Wisconsin's crop—potatoes, alfalfa, hay, barley, oats, corn, wheat and other products, mature at different times and the effect is to string the harvest work over more months than is the case in many places elsewhere.

LABOR STABILIZED.
The peak loads are not so high and the dips are not so low. Labor on the farm is more stabilized. Harvesting with a rush, then a demand for migratory workers as it does for instance in Kansas. The farm family unit is more easily enabled to handle its land and what with the great increase in the use of tractors and other back-saving and much-amplifying devices one finds few farmers repining because hired men are hard to get.

One farmer of large acreage near Wenoew, reflected what scores of others said along the 115-mile stretch.

"I found here most everybody has a 'lio,'" he explained. "To cut the stalks, the farmer needs a gasoline engine, see the point? He might as well get one of these and in what he has been doing. Most all of them have got tractors."

"Take plowing. I can drive into his field with a tractor dragging four plows in the fall when the earth is hard and does not pick and tear up with a rush. Then in the spring he can jockey over it with due and harrow, and follow with a sower and draw the seed over behind. Two trips over the field by tractors have enabled the farmer to perform in short time what used to take his oxen and men and horses under the old methods."

In this region the potato crop is being cut and the number of farm hands decrease.

WEATHER HAZARD LESS.
Then too, diversified farming has decreased the weather hazard in Wisconsin. It is always easy to have some good crops. This year although dry weather is dragging down the corn estimates, still the State looks for 60,000,000 bushels, which is about 5,000,000 more than the 1919 and the five-year average of 27,250,000 bushels. Tobacco is thirty; wheat is just about up to the five-year average, while the hay crop estimated at 1,015,000 tons, is almost up to the 1919 output and is in excess of the five-year average.

All told, the experts say the farm value of the 1920 crops will beat that of 1919. They estimate the crops this time will be worth about $395,000,000 as against $353,750,000 last year.

STAY ON THE FARM.
In this section of Wisconsin, the farmers seem to be holding enough of their boys on the farm. In several hamlets we heard of retired farmers living in houses in town who would on the land, especially since the high cost of living started to browse in the clouds. More men, in fact, appear to be coming to the land than are going from it and if the talk of the farmers indicates anything it is that farm tenantry is not increasing in Wisconsin.

SMALL CITIES HIT.
The small cities are undoubtedly hit by the exodus to the manufacturing centers. Waukegan, for example, has been losing men from Winnebago, the lure of the gas engine again.

La Crosse has been losing men to Milwaukee. The small cities feel the pain far more than the farmer. In the background, too, are things that seem to be anchoring the younger generation to the land. One motherly farmer's wife in a six-cylinder car at Kilbourn tonight, was asked whether the city had dragged the boys away.

"Our son sticks," she said. "He wanted to go to Detroit to work, but I got Pa to buy this car and we haven't heard another word from the boy. Some boat, eh?"

Moke life attractive on the farm and they'll stay. Farms around here are getting smaller all the time and that's the reason the boys are staying and the father is giving them a share in the land.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE.)
OMAHA, Aug. 17.—Christian H. Van Knuth, Omaha real estate dealer, who had claimed to be a Danish count, but who was naturalized an American citizen several months ago, died late last night in a hospital after he had been shot by Milton W. Armour, manager of a grill in a prominent local hotel.

The shooting occurred at the Armour home. Armour was arrested but later released on bond. According to his story, the automobile of the two men narrowly missed colliding earlier in the evening, after which Van Knuth followed Armour to his residence, where he forced an entrance. Armour said Van Knuth was "infuriated" and that he fired his pistol at him because he wanted to protect his family.

According to a police report a bottle of liquor was found in Van Knuth's car.

EAST PRUSSIA GETS NERVOUS.

Frontier Population Waits for Country's Decision.

German Province Expected to Turn to Bolshevism.

Red Soldiers Across Border Shoot Allied Tourists.

BY CYRIL BROWN.

(BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
KOLNO, Aug. 17.—An amazing adventure carried me on a romp behind the Bolshevik lines to this border town. God-forsaken town in Polish-shed Poland. The German authorities urgently advised and warned me not to cross the frontier as the Bolsheviks were shooting at Allied tourists on sight.

In fact, specific reports current in official quarters of East Prussia were to the effect that Bolshevik troops had orders to shoot, hang and otherwise kill any French, English and Americans who might fall into their hands.

British authorities in the province gave the same advice, saying, "It is suicide, sir, to cross the frontier, and moreover, it is forbidden."

The British authorities issued strict orders to let no citizens of the allied and associated powers over the border for this reason. The German authorities had likewise stringently closed the border pending developments.

MUCH NERVOUSNESS.
There is much nervousness here on both sides of the East Prussian frontier. In fact, the frontier feeling is best described as wavering and in a state of unstable equilibrium. Nobody knows whether East Prussia will try to follow suit and turn Bolshevik Red. The border towns are certainly infected.

With neither the German nor Russian authorities permitting anyone to cross the border into Bolshevik Poland and with the prospects of free travel according to advance dope The Times man went over the top at noon with another American correspondent and Editor Bauer of the "Johannesburg Gazette," who talked Polish, and therefore, dodged along as an interpreter. We crossed from Germany into Bolshevik Poland behind the German frontier hamlet of Dettowen, following in the footsteps of smugglers by crossing the boundary along the Western bank of a fishy three-inch stream. Curious German officials showed us the forbidden crossing. Thereafter the mystery continued to deepen.

INTERNATIONAL STRAND.
As soon as we were safely across the river on Bolshevik Polish soil we skirted the river and back of the main highway. The German border police who showed the correspondent the forbidden crossing said the beam whereon we walked over was the first international one connecting Germany with Russia. This is politically significant as the Russo-German alliance of 1918 and the Versailles Treaty of 1919. Kaino is a typical Russo-Polish town with 10,000 people wearing black skull caps and long dirty beards, and many from Albert coats and otherwise in rough iron clothes. We saw numerous offices of China and birchen, constituting what is known as the "overwhelming majority" and the "overwhelming majority" of the population.

When we arrived at the cross place of Kaino the correspondent demanded to know where the commissary was to be found. We were shown into a shabby two-story brick building and taken into the dining-room where the Communist Hans Schumacher and the other Bolsheviks were sitting. They gulped thick soup and potatoes and steaks smothered in onion sauce washed down with amber beer. Introduced myself to this Communist. Communist chief of the kept right on eating soup and steaks, taking no notice of me.

LEADERS CONFER WITH HARDING.

Meet to Shape Speaking Schedule for Senator.

Labor Day Speech Will be from Front Porch.

Will Elaborate Position on League of Nations Soon.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
MARION (O.) Aug. 17.—A conference of Republican chiefs convened today to shape a speaking schedule for Senator Harding, but adjourned without completing the task.

Requests that the nominee speak away from Marion were discussed along with plans for the reception here of front porch engagements. Will H. Hays, national chairman, announced that at Senator Harding's personal invitation, the Labor Day speech would be delivered from the front porch to a meeting arranged by the Central Labor Union.

He said the Senator was anxious to speak on labor issues here among people who knew his labor record and for that reason invitations to other cities for that day were declined. "The other front porch speech was announced September 4, when Republican State ways and means chairman will be received."

Time and place where campaign issues are to be presented by Senator Harding also were discussed, and it was announced there would be an elaboration of his position on the League of Nations in the speech here August 28 to a delegation of the party's speakers.

Besides Hays and Senator Harding, those present at the conference included Senator New of Indiana, head of the party's speakers bureau; Harry M. Daugherty of Ohio, Senator Harding's pre-convention manager; and Harry Wallace of Iowa, publisher of farm periodicals.

What took place at the session was described by Senator New as just a general discussion without reaching any decisions except tentatively. He said all participants except Senator Harding were leaving Marion tonight and that there had been no agreement for resumption of the conference.

Chairman Hays said there had been no hitch in the proceedings, but that the work of sorting out the applications and dovetailing them together had been found very laborious.

NO MODIFICATION.
All of these in the conference were emphatic in declaring they expected no modification in the front-porch campaign. They said, however, that a number of speeches probably would be made in other cities, adding that such trips had been a part of the plan from the beginning.

In addition to favoring a front-porch Labor Day speech, Senator Harding emphasized the number of applications received for appointments here, declaring that not one of them could be granted.

On the other side, Senator New laid before the candidate invitations to speak in other places. But the nominee held to the position that none should be accepted for the present.

Among other things, there was some discussion of Senator Harding's speech of September 8 at the Minnesota State Fair. Farm questions were talked over with Wallace.

SCORES HARDING PEACE PROPOSAL.

Gov. Cox Says Separate Pact With Germany Monstrous.

Declares Party Stand on the League Not Unbending.

Can Accept Anything that Interprets, He Asserts.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
COLUMBUS (O.) Aug. 17.—In addressing the Ohio Democratic convention today, Gov. Cox flayed Senator Harding, Republican nominee, as reactionary, denounced what he termed Harding's plan for a separate peace with Germany, but said that the Democratic position on the League of Nations reservations was not unbending.

"The San Francisco platform," he said, "gives us the right to enter the League on terms that need no defense. Our position is not unbending. We claim that we can accept anything (in reservations) that interprets, that calls attention to the limitations of our Constitution; that calls attention to the other nations that we will go thus far and no further."

LEAGUE FEATURED.
The League issue was featured by Gov. Cox and also, in addresses of Secretary Baker and Senator Pomerehne of Ohio.

"Perfectly monstrous act" and "dishonorable deed" were terms applied by Gov. Cox to the separate peace proposal, as the convention gave him ovation after ovation.

"This, after all," he continued, "is the crux of the situation. The reactionaries promise you nothing but a proposal which, at its best, promises nothing but months and possibly years of delay. On the other hand, we promise that after March 4, with the least amount of conversation possible, we will enter the League."

Denying that the League could order American soldiers overseas, Gov. Cox continued: "The Republican leaders, in declaring that four or five potentates overseas can order our soldiers anywhere, are speaking a deliberate and willful untruth."

Gov. Cox reiterated that Congress only may declare war and asserted that what the reactionaries were doing was to require a constitutional amendment.

After a vigorous study of Senator Harding's acceptance address, Gov. Cox said he found the statement that has staggered the sensibilities of the world—the unthinkable, monstrous proposal for a separate peace with Germany.

"Now that our army is disbanded and the military strength of the Allies scattered," the Governor said, "he would destroy that pact (the League) and enter into a new covenant."

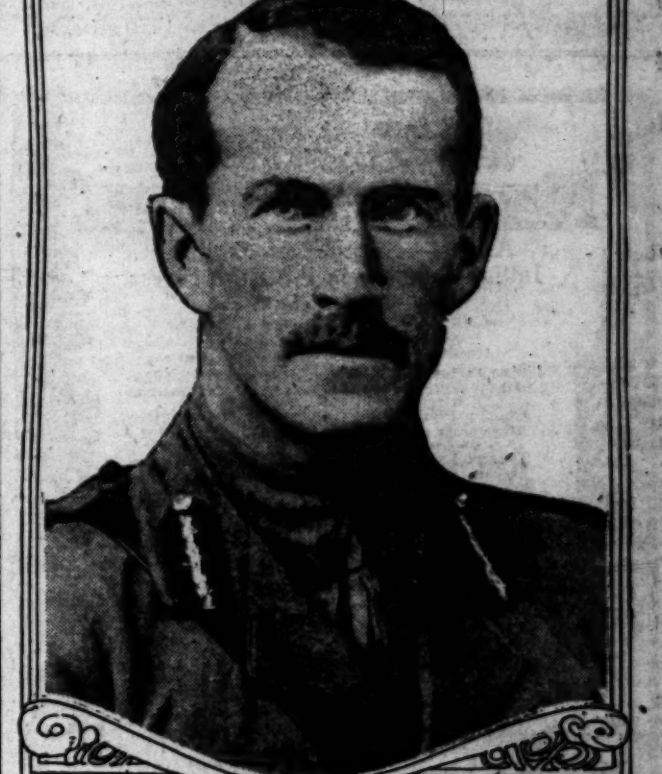

"I give you this assurance," he continued, "that this dishonorable deed will not be perpetrated, first, because Warren G. Harding will not have a chance to do it, and second, that I will not incur 2,000,000 soldiers by doing it myself."

The Governor weighed the records of himself and Senator Harding in Ohio, especially in the fight for a new State constitution.

The next address will be made Thursday night at South Bend, Ind.

GENERAL :: ESCAPES :: PRISON

Britton Was Long Held by Sinn Feiners.

Brig-Gen. C. A. T. Lucas, who was held for a long time by the Sinn Feiners in Ireland, has escaped. He once more is in the active service of his country. His getaway was a sensational one and he appears to be none the worse for his long confinement. In all probability he will not be returned to Ireland again, but his knowledge of Irish conditions will be of great assistance to officials in dealing with the perplexing questions before them.

According to the returning vacationists there have been many merry parties at the resorts where the supply of "hooch" was plentiful. It has been too hot for men to wear coats and without the masking coat tail, where is a gent to carry his flask?

Congressman Randall Says Freedom Now a Crime.

Declares Islands Are Not Ready for Independence.

Shadow of Jap Aggression Over Orient, He Says.

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
HONOLULU, Aug. 17.—Independence for the Philippines before the next twenty-five years was opposed as a crime of the first magnitude by Representative C. H. Randall of California, a member of the Congressional party touring the Orient, who came here today aboard the Great Northern on his way to the United States.

"There should be no independence for the Philippines before the next quarter of a century and you will find practically every member of the Congressional party of the same mind," he said.

"With many, including myself, it was a great reversal of opinion. After seeing the Philippines it was our almost unanimous verdict that the Philippines are not ready for independence."

"It would be a crime of the first magnitude to cast these people adrift. The better-educated Filipinos, who are not politicians, are practically united in their opposition to independence."

"The development of the Philippines is stagnated because of the lack of capital due to uncertainty of the status of the future government. It is unalterably opposed to surrendering the Philippines to other than American jurisdiction for the reasons above, and another reason fraught with profound omen to the United States and the entire Orient."

The shadow of Japanese aggression overlooms almost the entire Orient. Thoughtful men are in semitorment at the prospect of Japanese domination of Siberia, China, Korea and the Philippines. If the United States releases them later, Randall said he had cabled Attorney General Palmer urging that prohibition be extended to the Philippines.

National Forest Fires Unchecked; Fighters Ask Aid

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17.—While hundreds of men backfired and fought with wet sacks, forest fires were racing virtually unchecked before brisk, dry winds over a large area of the Trinity and Lassen national forests today, according to reports reaching the headquarters of the United States Forest Service here.

For the Trinity fire ranchers were being pressed into service over a wide district and the towns of Weaver and Redding were being called upon for all of the men and supplies they could furnish.

Falls of black smoke rising from the thick pine and fir stands that were being raked by the swiftly moving flames were making the work of the volunteers virtually useless, it was reported here.

The heart of the Trinity fire was in Canadian Creek, Trinity county, where the flames were taking everything before them in almost inaccessible country. In the Lassen fire the flames were racing along Miller Creek. More than two hundred men were fighting them.

No towns were in the path of either fire today, but some ranches were believed to be in danger. A fire which had been burning in the Tahoe National Forest was said to be under control today.

Richest Indian Gives Interview of Many "Ughs."

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
KANSAS CITY, Aug. 17.—"Chief" Jackson Barnett, the wealthiest Indian, who married Mrs. Emma Lowe of Kansas City and retained his bride after legal battles had failed to separate them, paused in his study of hotel patrons from his seat in the Muehlbach today and talked.

Giving his hat a tug at the brim, the "chief" tapped the carpet with his shoes and said: "Ugh." Under the watchful eye of his step-daughter, he eyed owlishly with blue beady eyes at his interviewer.

"Going to be here long, Mr. Barnett?" "Ugh." "How do you like married life by this time?" "Ugh." "A series of staccato grunts greeted the question and the chief smiled. "Ugh, pretty much," he replied.

REORGANIZATION IS DECIDED ON

Immigration Bureau Must Undergo Reconstruction.

Many Undesirable Conditions
Are Said to Prevail.

Ellis Island Officials Greatly Handicapped.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—Reorganization of the Bureau of Immigration has been ordered by Asst.-
ant Secretary of Labor Post.

The action was taken, officials said today, because of conditions indicating utter disorganization of the bureau, both here and in its field service.

First steps in the reorganization were taken by Assistant Secretary
Post on July 21, when Commissioner of Immigration Crampton was shorn of the authority he had exercised making recommendations in appeal and warrant cases.
The department contended that only the Secretary of Labor and the Asstant Secretary were empowered by law to exercise judgment in such cases.

CAUSE CALLED FOR.
On August 14 a memorandum was prepared by Secretary Post inquiring into the cause of and remedies for the disorganized conditions in the Bureau of Immigration and its consequent inefficiency.

Certain undesirable conditions prevailing were ordered remedied immediately. These included, besides the enforcement of the decision affecting the transfer of judgment over appeal and warrant cases to the Secretary of Labor Post.

ALL RAILROADS OPPOSE DEPO

Publicly Declare Hostility Sachse Plaza Plan.

Against Union Station the Present Time.

Engineers' Report Admitted Commission Hearing.

The first public acknowledgment of the local railroads are of the construction of a union here was made yesterday at the hearing of the Railroad Commission and representatives of four lines to do their attitude during a publication on the Plaza union terminal of State Engineer Sachse, Henry C. W. Durbrow of Santa Fe, representing the Southern, said he was, first, last and in favor of the old scheme of the Southern Pacific-Salt Lake and the Arcade Station, Pasadena, representing the Southern, representing the Southern and Pacific Electric, said he would be agreeable to Engineers' elaboration of the old Southern Pacific plan, providing Mr. Sachse's freight yard scheme and plan of embracing the Santa Fe station. A. S. Halstead, attorney for the Salt Lake, expressed in favor of the Southern Pacific-Salt Lake plan. E. W. Campbell for the Santa Fe, said his company does not want to join the new made in a terminal at the Union Station, and that the road running well enough with their depot. He inferred that the commission demanded union for the Santa Fe would prefer the old plan.

MADE CROSSINGS FIRST.

Then, said Mr. Camp, "that is in varying the dog in this." When the matter was brought to the attention of the commission a long time ago it was a crossing elimination scheme; has grown into a $52,000,000 plan, a long time ago it was a better go ahead and eliminate the crossings and begin disunion depot along about the time of Herbert J. Goudge, attorney for the Business Men's Association to establish that Engineers' idea for the Plaza terminal is not so esthetic, were sharpened during the hearing, when Mr. Edgerton, addressing Mr. Sachse, said:

"I am familiar with the Berkeley project, which was built by the Southern Pacific from its own money," said the engineer.

"The same degree of estheticism used in building the terminal, as was exerted in building the Berkeley project," said the engineer.

AUTHORIZES INCREASE OF PACIFIC ELECTRIC FARES.

Railroad Commission Grants Rise of Twenty Per Cent; Yellow Car Lines Not Affected.

The Pacific Electric Railway has been authorized by the Railroad Commission to increase passenger and freight rates not to exceed 20 per cent. This decision was announced yesterday.

No change in the Los Angeles Railway's fares is authorized.

Increases which the company will put in effect not later than September 1 were announced last night as follows:

City fares will be 6 cents, with no change in the local fare limit.

School children's tickets, forty rides for $1.20.

Interurban fares will be increased 20 per cent, with the following exceptions:

Maximum increase one way, 5 cents; round trip, 10 cents, applying to most points. Exceptions to be worked out today.

Minimum interurban fare, 6 cents one way; 12 cents round trip.

Minimum commutation fare will be 7 1/2 cents one way.

MANY AFFECTED.

Co-operation with the Interstate Commerce Commission is reflected in the decision, which conforms with the interstate ruling and affects practically all steam railroads, electric interurban railways and boat lines operating in California.

The local fare increase applies only to the Pacific Electric so far as increase of strictly local rates is concerned, because tariff rises previously had been allowed the other interurban lines in the state.

California is in the Mountain Pacific group designated by the Interstate Commerce Commission and in this group the commission allows 25 per cent increase in freight rates and 20 per cent in passenger fares.

"We realize," the Railroad Commission's decision says, "that with-out requiring more evidence than is now before us in this proceeding to impose on interstate business the identical percentage fixed by the Interstate Commerce Commission would be to effect the fixing through the Interstate Commerce Commission."

CO-OPERATION DUTY.

"On the other hand, to proceed in the usual manner as an independent proceeding would result in serious delay, as it is evident that to gather and submit adequate data upon which to base sound judgment of what practically all transportation purposes under the Interstate Commerce Commission would require many months, and all possibility of immediate relief to the public would be lost."

"It appears to us that if each

OLD RATE AND NEW COMPARED.

Following are the passenger fare schedules worked out by the Pacific Electric last night applying the 20 per cent increase authorized by the Railroad Commission. A staff of rate men will complete the work today after the officials decide what percentage shall be applied to long hauls. In no case, however, can the increase amount to more than 20 per cent. A partial list of the changes is:

	Rate	New
Local street car fare	Now	Rate
School tickets (40 rides)	1.00	1.25
Culver City (one way)	.30	.37
Culver City (round trip)	.30	.30
Watts (one way)	.11	.13
Watts (round trip)	.20	.25
Glendale (one way)	.14	.17
Glendale (round trip)	.25	.30
Alhambra (one way)	.17	.20
Alhambra (round trip)	.30	.35
Pasadena (one way)	.22	.25
Pasadena (round trip)	.38	.45

Fares to the beaches were first announced as 45 cents one way and 85 cents round trip under the new rates instead of 40 cents and 60 cents now charged. General Passenger Agent Smith said late last night, however, the changes may be made in this today.

FREE MAN, HOLD WIFE.

Woman Must Face Charge of Selling Wine from Home Stock.

Dominic Spadafora, accused of illegally selling liquor at his home at The Palms, was discharged yesterday by U. S. Commissioner Long, but his wife, Mrs. Marie Spadafora, was held to answer to the United States District Court on the same charge. Her bail was fixed at $500.

Police officers who arrested the couple say they found several barrels of wine in the house and that the wife was selling it. She is charged with selling a gallon of wine for $5.

BRIDE TAKEN TO TASK.

Housekeeper Told Her She Had Ruined Life, She Says.

Suit for divorce and $250 a month alimony was filed in the Superior Court at San Francisco yesterday against John F. Davenport by Mrs. Jewel M. H. Davenport, who says that when he took her, after a two-week honeymoon, to the home of Mrs. Julia L. Ames, in Los Angeles, he lived, Mrs. Ames, who had been Davenport's housekeeper for ten years, protested to Davenport's bride.

"You have ruined my life and broken my heart," she said.

Mrs. Davenport says her husband compelled her to live in Mrs. Ames's home, that Mrs. Ames insisted that doors between her own room and the Davenports' bedroom be kept open at all times and that Mrs. Ames frequently became hysterical.

Whenever the Davenports went out on Sunday or in the evening Davenport insisted that Mrs. Ames accompany them, his wife, Mrs. Davenport, says, and that she was forced to live in Mrs. Ames's home, that Mrs. Ames insisted that doors between her own room and the Davenports' bedroom be kept open at all times and that Mrs. Ames frequently became hysterical.

Former Treasury Secretary
Says Dangerous Theory Now
Real Menace to State.

The danger to every class of men and women in California, dwellers in the cities and those who live on the land outside the cities, in the efforts of the advocates of the single tax amendment to the State Constitution will be fully explained by Leslie M. Shaw, former Secretary of the Treasury, at the meeting to be held under the auspices of the People's Anti-Single Tax League at Trinity Auditorium tonight.

This meeting is to be open to voters of either sex and to everybody interested in the defeat of the single tax in California. Mr. Shaw states that he particularly desires to have the single taxers present, as he has secured some remarkable evidence of the effects of the single tax.

WOULD REDUCE TRUCKS' SPEED.

Commissioner Favors a Limit of Fifteen Miles for Heavy Machines.

An ordinance reducing the speed of trucks of three tons or over to a maximum of fifteen miles an hour instead of the present legal speed of twenty miles an hour is recommended by Police Commissioner Barry in a report he formally submitted yesterday to the commission suggesting changes in traffic regulations to bring about a reduction in the number of accidents.

"All drivers of delivery wagons or trucks," says Mr. Barry, "should be compelled to submit to an examination as to their knowledge of traffic ordinances and the operation of an automobile before being granted a chauffeur's license."

The commissioner also urges that the present number of traffic policemen be doubled.

Collapses Under Shock of Grim Truth.

GIRL SOBS WHEN TOLD TRAGEDY.

Woman in Flash Case Faces
Dead Wife's Mother; New Evidence Hunted.

Hysterical and sobbing, Mrs. Gladys Fox, the 16-year-old girl who was found at the San Diego home of T. F. Flash, learned yesterday for the first time of the tragic death and secret burial of Flash's wife.

That Flash, who was chief pharmacist on the U.S.S. Prairie, had been taken to jail in San Diego, the girl knew. But that he had confessed last Thursday to the homicide which resulted in her death on the morning of June 17 had been carefully kept from her until yesterday.

Mrs. E. W. Reiner, mother of the slain woman, who came south from her home at Portland, Ore., after her daughter's body had been found in its shallow, sandy grave in a dry bed near San Diego, was chosen to divulge the news of the tragedy to Gladys Fox at her home in the southern city.

The San Diego police are not yet satisfied that they have conclusive proof that Flash murdered his wife willfully and with premeditation. Continuing their researches were directed toward an attempt to determine when and where Flash secured the shovel with which he tumbled the almost naked body of his slain wife. Flash insists that the shovel is his and that he found it under the front porch of his home. The police say that it shows no evidences of much use, and that there are no signs of gardening or digging around the Flash house. They hope to establish as a fact that Flash purchased the shovel just before his wife was killed, and by such evidence, if it can be found, to prove that the crime was carefully planned.

TEN ACRES ABLAZE.

Brush Fire Keeps Forest Rangers Apprehensive for Reserve.

A brush fire on the ranch of A. D. Knoblauch on the main highway near La Crescenta got beyond control yesterday and spread over a section of ten acres. The fire was reported to S. W. Allen, Supervisor of the Angeles National Forest, and S. J. Pittman, county forester, was notified. The fire was reported under control late in the day, but should the flames spread to the reserve, which is just across the highway from the ranch.

About 200 Republicans of precinct 565 gathered last night in honor of Henry E. Carter, candidate for nomination for State Senator, at the home of Mrs. Grace L. Hemze, 1100 West Sixty-ninth street. The party consisted of refreshments and speeches. C. E. Whiteside, Mrs. Carter's campaign manager, says other lawn parties will follow.

Many Conferences Afford no

"Inside Job" Theory Causes
Quizzing of Trustees.

A series of conferences of city and police officials, the District Attorney and employees of the police station and Police Courts failed to reveal the identity of the bold crackman who stole $24,000 from a safe at Central Station early yesterday morning.

Working on the theory that the theft might have been an "inside job," committed by some person familiar with the fact that there was a large sum of money in the safe in Police Judge Chesbro's courtroom, Chief Home and Detective Deputy Sergeant O'Brien and Cato spent the day quizzing several persons who had access to or who had been in the courtroom.

Officer Kalseberger, who has charge of the jail trustees, who do the janitor work in the ancient Police Station Building, told Chief Home that he had locked the courtroom door at 6 o'clock Monday night. Many of the trustees were questioned, but to no avail.

NO ARREST IN SIGHT.

Late yesterday afternoon a closed conference was held in Chief Home's office with Mayor Snyder, the three detective sergeants and Clyde Johnson, clerk of Judge Chesbro's court, present. Following the conference Clerk Johnson accompanied Detective Sergeant Cline, O'Brien and Cato to the District Attorney's offices where a second long conference, lasting an hour and a half, was held with Deputy District Attorney Doan. After this conference the detectives stated they did not expect to make any arrests during the night, and Johnson departed for his home in Hermosa Beach.

The theft was committed some time between 8 o'clock Monday night and 10 o'clock yesterday morning. The theft was discovered when the safe was opened at the courtroom yesterday morning. With him at the time was G. W. Roscoe, chief bailiff of the Police Court, and A. McDowell, attorney for the Automobile Club of Southern California. Johnson immediately notified Capt. Murray, acting chief of police.

In his written report Johnson stated that after reaching his office to transact a small amount of business.

THOMAS LITCH SUES BROKERS.

Conspiracy to Defraud Him
Charged in Complaint.

Andrews & Co. Are Accused in Suit for Damages.

Asserts Misrepresentation in Value of Stock.

In a suit asking $14,375 damages, of which $5000 is demanded by way of punishment, Thomas K. Litch, of Pittsburgh, Pa., yesterday charged that Andrews & Co., through C. Fred Grundy, conspired to cheat and defraud him out of 109 shares of stock. The complaint sets out that Mr. Litch was the beneficiary of the income from stocks and bonds and other personal property held in trust by the Union Banking and Trust Company of Pennsylvania, including 109 shares of stock of the Standard Underground Cable Company.

Mr. Grundy promised by agreement, it is stated, to undertake to collect from the trust company the dividends belonging to Mr. Litch, amounting to $2700. It was represented that the Union would not surrender the shares or pay the value of the stock unless it was invested in substantial securities so that Mr. Litch could not spend or squander the money.

The complaint states that Mr. Grundy said Andrews & Co. held such substantial securities which could be approved by the Union company. It further says that he stated that if the money received from the Union stock was invested in these securities, Mr. Litch would "make big money," because Mr. Grundy had inside information on stocks and bonds. Mr. Litch says he was told if he would follow the advice and instructions of Mr. Grundy, he could make 25 per cent on the investment and convince the Union company he was not a spendthrift.

Mr. Litch says he was induced to consent to the collection of the 109 shares of stock and their conversion into cash. The complaint states that on July 9, 1918, the defendant received for the use of the plaintiff, $12,700, the proceeds from the sale of the stock. Subsequently Mr. Litch authorized the defendants to invest $25,000 of the cash in the Empire Trust and Rubber Company and the Falls Motor Corporation, stocks which he says were represented to have a value of $100 a share.

The Empire stock was not worth more than $5 a share and the Falls stock $6 a share. Mr. Litch declares Andrews & Co. could not be reached last night to give their side of the case.

Caring for Baby During Hot Spells

Be watchful of food and keep bowels open with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin

THE young mother soon learns from experience that summer days are often days that try her patience. The heat makes baby peevish, restless and cross. Foods that in colder weather were easily digested, now seem to cause distress.

Whether the milk or the gruel is at fault, or that the bowels move regularly. There is nothing that creates greater discomfort in the summer than constipation. It breeds the blood and causes nervousness, headache, fever, colds and a host of other ills. In these little ailments it is always well to suspect constipation and give half a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin, the most ideal medicine you can give a baby. It is mild and in action, never grips and tastes good.

Millions of people of all ages suffer from occasional or chronic constipation. Let them send name and address to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 512 Washington Street, Monticello, Ill., for a free sample bottle of his wonderful Syrup Pepsin. 8 million bottles were bought at drug stores last year, the largest sale in the world.

Mothers have had remarkable success with Syrup Pepsin. Mrs. C. M. Newton of 200 E. Third St., Dayton, Ohio, has a son who was constipated from birth. She tried many medicines and gave warm water injections every evening for weeks, without benefit. Then she bought a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at a drug store, and it proved effective at once. The boy is now seven, and has not been constipated since. Wherever there is a baby these hot days there should be a bottle of Syrup Pepsin.

IN AT THE FINISH.
 The third day of the Olympic games at Antwerp finds Finland second and next to America in number of points. France and England were away down in the roll. Finland is a brand new nation, but it will be well to watch the Finnish. Anyhow, they are handy with their fists.

DELIGHTFUL LOGIC.
 Seems funny, but it is still the fact that the people who object most to the League of Nations and who want to keep from all alliances are those who are loud in their demands that we help free Ireland. What is even funnier is the circumstance that they still believe themselves consistent.

HOME INDUSTRIES.
 With more than 3300 manufacturing industries within the city limits it is possible that dwellers in Los Angeles have something more than climate to sustain life. We have a more extended and comprehensive roster of industries than Pittsburgh and yet the skies are not forever blackened with smoke and soot.

ON THE TRAIL.
 A man who had a half-pint flask of whisky in a shoe box in his auto was arrested by the prohibition officials and is now under $500 bonds for future appearance and trial. It is hardly safe for a man to step behind a tree at the golf links for fear of being plucked for carrying contraband liquor. Next thing we know the government will be asked to keep a private watch on every cellar and bloodhound will be trained on cloves and lemon peel.

OUR COUNTRY'S BONDS.
 The government's offer of $150,000,000 of one year treasury certificates was over-subscribed to the extent of more than fifty millions. Yet Liberty Bonds are at a discount. Some people's interest in their country is measured by the interest on their country's bonds. It is significant that most of the agitation that there be government or legislative action to stimulate a purchase for Liberty Bonds comes from those who have already bought large blocks of these securities from those who felt obliged to sacrifice them.

GREAT COUNTRY.
 People who have been inclined to consider the State of Arizona as a cross between a trackless desert and a cactus farm will be surprised to realize that it is almost a billion-dollar commonwealth. The assessed valuation of Arizona property now reaches $854,000,000 and is steadily rising. Although the mines were responsible for its original wealth, it is in the more enduring domain of agriculture that its present progress is being made. The assessed value of its mining properties has, in fact, fallen off, but its cotton and alfalfa are making wonderful strides and the irrigation projects assure a permanence in these crops. No more may it be said that Arizona is inhabited chiefly by jack rabbits and salubrious. There are a lot of up-to-date men and women with busy bank accounts.

ROAD RESPONSIBILITIES.
 The police department instructions are to arrest all motorists who are concerned with fatal accidents. They might go still farther and hold autoists who are involved in minor tragedies. If it can be brought to the realization of every driver that he is personally responsible with his liberty and property for every turn of the wheel it might cool his brain down to the safety level. It is unfortunate for the public that so many firms and individuals can insure themselves against every hazard of the road. When bonded drivers scurry over the streets in trucks carrying all kinds of indemnity insurance the simple-minded pedestrian better take to the brush. The man at the wheel has a feeling of recklessness and irresponsibility that means danger for everything in his path. If the president of a corporation had to go to jail when the 18-year-old driver of one of his fleet trucks bowled over a child he would be more concerned whether the employee had red hair or a strain of Comanche Indian in the blood.

INSIDE THE JAIL.
 The Denver strike leaders are in jail under a ninety-day sentence for contempt of court. Although eight hundred street-car employees signed applications for a continuance of their jobs and there was no grievance to warrant a single man leaving his post, the union bosses ordered the strike and a program of picketing and violence. This was in direct defiance of an injunction of the courts forbidding conspiracy to injure the business or destroy the property of the company. As a result of the strike there was much rioting. Five or six persons were killed and scores were injured. Many cars were smashed and a newspaper office was wrecked. The peace of the entire community was destroyed—all to satisfy the passions and to give some notoriety to a tainted little group of alleged labor leaders. The head of the disorderly flock assumes the role of a patriot as he dramatically declares that he has but one reason to make—that he be not taken to jail on a street car manned by scabs. That ignominious transfer would break his mighty heart. If the judge had had a sense of humor he would have had this flimsy boss taken to jail in a wheelbarrow while a jazz band played the "Rogue's March."

CALIFORNIA AND THE TARIFF.
 "American markets cannot be systematically surrendered to foreign producers, however kind we may feel towards our allies." This reply of Senator Harding to an appeal from the lemon growers of California to protect them from the ruinous competition of the Mediterranean states is one of the early indications that the tariff will be an issue in the coming national campaign.

More than $100,000,000 is invested in the lemon industry in California alone. By reason of Sicilian competition most of the crop this year has been marketed at a loss. The eastern market has been flooded by 1,000,000 boxes of Sicilian lemons dumped there during the last twelve months. During the month of June Sicilian lemons were selling in New York for less than the freight rate on lemon shipments from California to the Atlantic Coast.

Under former Republican administrations there was a lemon tariff fixed at a rate which equalized the cost of production and marketing between the Sicilian ports and the Pacific Coast. As soon as the Democrats secured control of the national government Tammany Hall began a war on the citrus-fruit tariff. The Italian citrus-fruit importers of New York City have always been heavy contributors to the Tammany campaign fund. They help to supply the ammunition for the Tammany guns; and Tammany operates on a reciprocity basis.

As soon as the Democrats secured control of Congress Tammany demanded and received as part of its reward the repeal of the citrus-fruit tariffs. During the last four years the competition of the Mediterranean lemon growers did not figure to any marked extent in the eastern lemon market. But the war is ended now and the dumping is in progress. California lemon growers lost close to $2,000,000 in July alone by reason of Sicilian competition.

Acting through former U. S. Senator Flint, the California lemon growers made their appeal last week to Senator Harding to keep in mind the necessity of a restoration of a protective tariff on lemons. The necessity becomes all the greater because the recent advance in freight rates increases the freight on lemons from $1.55 to $1.40 a box. No appeal was made to the Democratic candidate for the good and sufficient reason that the domination of Tammany Hall over the Democratic party and its nominee is so pronounced that any attempt to secure a restoration of the lemon tariff would be about as effective as asking Cox to fill his Cabinet positions with Republicans.

Senator Harding, on the other hand, has displayed in his reply an intimate knowledge of industrial conditions in the country outside Ohio. He has given his assurance that he will ask Congress to give to the lemon industry of California adequate protection against foreign competition. He gave the further assurance that the condition which the lemon industry faces is similar to that of several other industries under Democratic free trade, and that all these industries will be protected by a Republican tariff from European underselling as soon as the Republican party is returned to power.

There is food for sober reflection for those who think the tariff is no longer an issue in the foreign-trade statistics for the last twelve months. They show that the total imports for the month of June were valued at $555,000,000, the highest of any month in the history of the country. The export figures for the same month were the lowest of any month since last July, and the balance of trade was the lowest of any month since the opening of the war. Our imports are now more than three times as great as they were before the war and the volume is increasing monthly. If we were importing only raw material and were exporting the finished product, the situation would be devoid of alarm; but the great volume of imports is composed of articles which could and should be manufactured by American workmen in American industries. If the country is to pass through another four years of Democratic free trade two-thirds of the manufacturing plants of the country will be forced to close by reason of underselling from Europe and Asia. Closing those factories will throw millions of men and women out of employment, entailing widespread unrest and misery.

Let those who think this menace exaggerated consider the difference to the workmen of this country between imports of $150,000,000 for June, 1913, and $550,000,000 for June, 1920. As the greater part of those imports were products which are grown or manufactured also in this country it means a loss of approximately $400,000,000 in wages in a single month. How long can that condition continue without bringing industrial disaster?

It is true that there has been an equal increase in the volume of our exports and that half the increase is represented by increased prices. But doubled prices have meant doubled wages, and the chief benefit of those increases go to those who toil. As far as California is concerned, the lemon growers have pointed out that the election of another free-trade administration will be the destruction of a $100,000,000 industry. When one considers the number of industries that would be forced to the interest which California has in the return to power of the party of protection and production is not difficult to discern.

PUBLIC EXPERIMENTS.
 The superintendent of municipal markets has resigned his office. He was no mere politician hankering for an official job and so he does not hesitate to say that the place is exasperating. People do not seem to want public markets as badly as they thought, and the farmers and gardeners do not indicate an eagerness to get into direct touch with the consumer. Both sides seem to be drawing blanks and meanwhile when every business seems to be operating at a fat profit the public markets are running at a loss. The people are paying heavily for a thing they only think they want and which they will not use. This is the usual program of public ownership and operation. It comes with a rush and the demand seems to be overwhelming. Then it stalls with use as it falls into political hands. The profit turns to a deficit, but the administration cannot let go. The thing must run on for the benefit of the politicians, even if the interests of the people are wholly lost. Private venture and a competition that inspires service are the things which make for permanence in the business world.

PROVING THE PUDDING.
 Theories are proved by their application, just as the first test of an airplane is whether it will fly. Henry George's theory of public ownership of land and all means of production was popular forty years ago, because it carried a promise of the abolishment of poverty, and no application of his theory had then been attempted. But time has taken that theory and applied it in the government of communities and has exposed its hollow mockery.

Arguments against the single tax have been supplanted by experience with it. There is not on record a single community that has prospered under the single-tax system, but there are a dozen communities that have been well-nigh ruined by it. Canada has carried the experiment farther than this country. Its novelty appealed to some of the cities of the western provinces and they put into effect a system of taxation wherein the entire burden was carried by the land. As the tax bill is a relatively small item in the average family budget, it must be a baneful law indeed that will wreck the prosperity of a community. But the single tax came near driving whole municipalities into bankruptcy; if it had not been repealed some of the Canadian cities would have been actually depopulated.

Vancouver was the largest city to test the single-tax scheme, and its experience is worthy of careful study, especially in California, where a single-tax proposition must be voted on in the November election. Vancouver passed a single-tax law in 1910. It was a municipal experiment. The great argument used in its favor was that it would compel the improvement of all the vacant lots in the city; for a vacant lot was taxed just as high as a lot containing a building that brought in a revenue of $100,000 a year. Under single tax the vacant land must necessarily be improved or abandoned.

For two years after the law went into effect there was an increase in the number and value of building permits issued; and the single-tax propaganda in California and elsewhere pointed to this increase as proof that the theory was workable. But the time came when Vancouver was heavily overbuilt, when about one-fourth the buildings in the city were vacant, and the citizens discovered that a lot containing an unoccupied house was of no more benefit to the community than the lot that remained vacant.

When the single-tax scheme was adopted in 1910 the value of Vancouver's building permits totaled $13,156,365. IN 1917, SEVEN YEARS LATER, THE BUILDING PERMITS TOTALLED ONLY $768,255.

There is the verdict which time has registered on the effect of the single tax on a municipality. In the same year (1917) the city found on its hands $5,454,431.11 of unredeemed city lots, together with a large deficit; for it could not collect enough taxes to pay the current expenses of the city government. Vancouver tried the single-tax theory of selling the property to pay taxes; but no one would bid for the lots. Vacant land was about as cheap in Vancouver as in the Mojave Desert. This was the ideal condition which Henry George sought to bring about. But the people of Vancouver were too obtuse to appreciate how happy they were. They moved away by the hundreds.

Seven lean years brought those who were determined to "stick it out" in Vancouver to their senses. Those who had been loudest in their proselyting for the single tax had already gone elsewhere, finding no means of earning a livelihood in Vancouver. New laws were passed, assessing the land only for its proper burden of taxation; and in the first year that improvements were taxed the value of building permits doubled.

Such is the record of one city under the single tax. The experience was practically duplicated in Victoria and South Vancouver. Wherever the single-tax theory was put into application it brought only business paralysis. Facing such a record, it seems almost incredible that any considerable number of persons should seek to visit such a scourge on the State of California. Yet the Greater Adventure League has succeeded in getting enough signatures to an initiatory single-tax amendment to give it a place on the November ballot.

For a great State like California to try such an experiment would be the very peak of folly. The result would be even more disastrous than an armed invasion.

A NOTABLE ACHIEVEMENT.
 The completion of the great Kerckhoff hydroelectric project of the San Joaquin Light and Power Corporation and the formal beginning of its operation last Sunday supplies an excellent example of the real service of a public-utility corporation in catering to the requirements of modern civilization. It is an achievement in which Los Angeles has a notable share in that the president of the company and the prime mover in the record-breaking construction work is William G. Kerckhoff of this city, father of the natural gas development of Southern California.

The financial returns to the corporation, which will be no more than moderate interest on its investment, are of small moment in comparison with the actual service rendered in the conversion of hitherto wasted water into 50,000 horse power of harnessed energy, the bulk of which will be used in pumping water for the reclaiming of large areas of new land, with a concomitant spur to a dozen correlated industries.

It is to be borne in mind that, in addition to this utilization of natural resources for which no practical use had previously been found, the Kerckhoff project will make no inroads upon our diminishing stocks of coal and fuel oil. Yet so serious has been the shortage of the San Joaquin Valley, that, for this new plant, it would have been necessary to erect new steam generating plants to fill the urgent requirements of power users.

In his remarks to those assembled to witness the formal launching of service by the project, the first of such to be completed in the State since the close of the war, Mr. Kerckhoff voiced the true relation of the public-utility corporation and the public in these words:

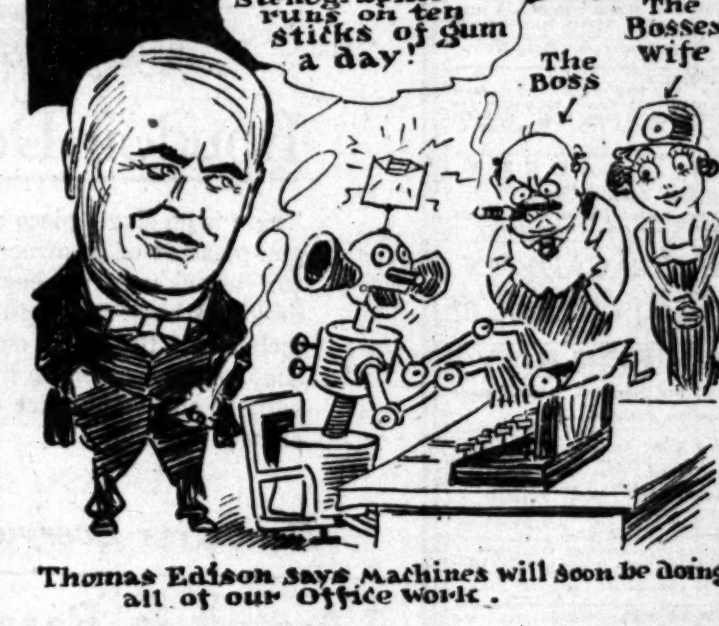

"For every dollar that this company may make out of the operation of this plant it is safe to say that the community realizes at least twentyfold. We welcome the co-operation of the people in this work and trust the co-operation of the community will be continued so that every acre in the valley may be irrigated and that every possible manufacturing and other enterprise may be developed."

We ought to win the Olympic Hurdles and High Jumps—Look at all the practice we've had!

And now we're showing the Allies how it's done!!

Thomas Edison Says Machines will soon be doing all of our office work.

STUNTS VERSUS BUSINESS.
 The recent lamentable aviation accident in this city, which cost the sport two of the most daring flyers who ever spurned the ground, has been pointed to by some more or less timorous persons as an argument against the safety of aviation.

One might with as much reason argue that carpet-laying is a hazardous profession and one to be avoided because a tack hammer can, on occasion, be used as a deadly weapon. Or that we ought to give up our flippers and walk because now and then a racing driver goes through the fence as a hundred miles an hour and kills somebody. Lieut. Locklear and Elliott met their deaths in a stunt whose very success depended upon it being made as spectacular and perilous as possible. The ordinary commercial airplane would no more undertake such a performance than a Clydesdale would enter the Derby. Even at that, the aviators were not killed through any fault of their machine, but because their eyes were dazzled by strong searchlights from the ground and they could not see how near the earth the plane was approaching. Another hundred feet would probably have saved them.

Commercial flying is here to stay and its development will in no wise be stayed by tragedies that overtake the overlanders.

Which is Some Defect.
 The right to strike would be less questionable if it did not operate to interfere with the right to live.—(Columbia Record.)

THE HUNGER KILLER.
 BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

Wheat is the cornerstone of the food structure of the nonoriental world, and the supply of it determines largely whether western nations are to be well or poorly fed. Most of the wheat is raised in the Northern Hemisphere, and the crop is at present so far advanced that reliable estimates of it can be made. And it is certain the wheat crop is to be abundant. From Mandalay to Saskatchewan, from Finland to Colorado, the reports are unvaryingly excellent as the thrashing season rapidly approaches.

The United States is the greatest wheat-producing country in the world. Her position is now more clearly won to a rival than before the war when Russia was an active competitor in all markets.

The United States is to have a near-bumper crop. During the five years that preceded the war period the average crop here was 687,000,000 bushels. During the war, under the stimulus of government encouragement and high prices, the average annual yield was 822,000,000 bushels. The latest forecast of the crop being harvested made by the Bureau of Crop Estimates is $10,000,000 bushels. It is becoming evident that we are to have a wartime yield to meet a peace-time need.

THE FARMERS MAKE GOOD.
 This crop is a magnificent accomplishment. Throughout the wheat belt the fields are yielding sturdy averages across the country, not unusually heavy, but are generally good and uniform. Early in the season there were varying influences militating against a heavy yield, but conditions have continued to improve right up to the present season and the forecasts have grown constantly more optimistic.

The contribution that the United States will this year be able to make to the wheat rationing of the world is estimated as follows: The crop will be 810,000,000 bushels. To this should be added 150,000,000 bushels held over from last year. This is twice the average consumption of wheat in 500,000,000 bushels. Fifty million bushels must be held to plant next year's crop. Thus we promise to have 100,000,000 bushels of wheat for export. This is more than half as much wheat as our own people consume. It is a splendid contribution to the world supply. Before the war our average export was 105,000,000, and the average wartime export was but 240,000,000 bushels. So we are doing handsomely this year.

In Canada the wheat crop promises to be better than it has been for years. Harry Cannadara has been pushing into the prairies of the Northwest, around Medicine Hat, Calgary and Moosejaw, latitudes six-month winters and 49 below temperatures. When crops were good, profits were large, but there have been bad seasons. For the past three years there have been mostly crop failures, and the suffering has been intense. But Canada promises to contribute 100,000,000 bushels of wheat for export this year.

In Argentina, where the harvest season is December and January, the last crop was fairly good, and there is still an unexported harvest. India gathered a good crop in March and April. In Australia it is now winter, and heavy acreages are being seeded. There was a great accumulation of wheat in Australia when the war came to an end, because there were no ships to carry it. The latest reports from Europe are universally encouraging. In France and Spain there are bumper crops, and Prussia reports good yields. While there is an absence of information from the east of Germany there is the assurance that the thrifty Hun is raising food for his own use. Czechoslovakia has a good crop. Rumania, banner wheat country of the Balkans, will make a fine showing. Only Italy has a crop that is below the average, and Algeria is alone in being rated poor.

EDITORIAL OPINION.

If the Allies don't fight they will lose the Versailles Treaty. If they are going to lose the Versailles Treaty anyway, at the cost of exposing Germany to Bolshevism, would it not be better to give up a part of that pact in order to hire Germany to fight on their side against the world peril of Bolshevism? Would this not especially be a good bargain for America, which has displayed no eagerness to get the Versailles Treaty even for nothing?—(Philadelphia Ledger.)

While there is some justification for the alarm felt in Western Europe over the Bolshevik advance upon Poland, there is no occasion for panic. Powerful as the Russian soviet armies are reputed to be, their quality has yet to be proved against a properly organized and equipped force—they lack one element of strength that is absolutely essential to an extended advance. They have discipline and leadership of a sort, morale and modern equipment, but they lack the most vital weakness: a lack of productive forces behind them, or even in front of them in territory they might temporarily overrun.—(Chicago News.)

Lenine intends no cessation in his efforts to conquer the world. He hopes to destroy the Entente. He is willing to make promises, but he does not intend to keep them. He could not keep them. Any cessation of hostilities can be only temporary. Such cessation would serve negatively to permit the Bolsheviks to strengthen themselves, to organize, to understand the force of his position. He realizes that Russia can pour forth hordes of crude, uneducated men as well as hordes of semisavages delighting in carnage and destruction. Conditions in Europe are portentous of evil for the world. This nation dare not ignore the threatened cataclysm.—(Cincinnati Enquirer.)

This may be true, but if weak and ailing girls passing from girlhood to motherhood would only rely, as thousands do, upon Lydia E. WORK TWICE AS EASY SAYS OHLS Gains 15 Pounds in One Month Taking Tanlac.

Bad Cough, Nervousness and Dyspepsia Gone Now.

Couldn't Ask to Feel Better Declares L. A. Man.

"Yes, sir, it's a fact, in just one month's time Tanlac has added fifteen pounds to my weight and built me up to where my work is twice as easy as it was before," said Walter Ohls, a well known machinist living at 2614 1/2 Pennsylvania Ave., Los Angeles, Calif., a few days ago. "Before I started taking Tanlac I had been going down hill for about six months. My appetite was just about gone and I couldn't eat a thing but what hurt me. I was all the time bloated up with gas, and it was really alarming to see how I was losing my strength and falling off in weight. One of the things that galled me down was a bad cough and besides that I was so nervous and easily upset the little things I wouldn't have noticed before nearly set me wild. I couldn't sleep worth a cent and just felt absolutely used up. It wasn't a thing in the world but grim determination that kept me on my job, for if it had been left to my feelings I wouldn't have lifted my hand to do a thing.

"A man working alongside me in the shop put me on to Tanlac, telling me how much good it had done him. Well, the second day I began on this medicine I was feeling better, and by the time I had finished the first bottle the change in my condition was astonishing. I have now taken three bottles of Tanlac and can eat three big meals a day without having the slightest trouble afterwards. My nervousness is gone, the cough has left me, too, and I sleep just like a healthy child. The truth is, I couldn't ask to feel any better than I do, and Tanlac will always get a good word from me."

Tanlac is sold in Los Angeles, Pasadena and San Diego by the Owl Drug Store, and by Irwin's Drug Store, Redondo Beach.

MEET TO BOOST LOCAL HARBOR.

Many Cities to be Represented at Big Banquet.

Rescue Hunter Lost in Canyon Back of Acton.

Legion Post Invites Candidates to Address Meeting.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.) PASADENA, Aug. 17.—Two hundred men, all but a few of them from neighboring cities, will attend a dinner and meeting to be held at Hotel Pasadena Thursday evening, under direction of the local Chamber of Commerce, for the purpose of bringing about a broader spirit of co-operation for the development of the port of Los Angeles. It is generally believed that such development will be directly beneficial to all communities from San Bernardino to Ventura.

Among cities that have thus far made reservations for delegations at the dinner are Los Angeles, Pasadena, Wilmington, Alhambra, Fontana, Redlands, Cucamonga, Maynard, Redondo, Long Beach, Van Nuys, San Pedro, Inglewood, Riverside and Eagle Rock.

Among the organizations to be represented will be the Associated Jobbers of Los Angeles Commercial Board, the World Traders, the One Hundred Per Cent Club of Los Angeles, the League of the Southwest, and the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce by its Foreign Trade Committee. John McWilliams, president of the Pasadena Chamber of Commerce, will preside, and Maynard McFie, president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, will be chairman of the meeting to follow the dinner.

Frank Wiggins, secretary of the Los Angeles chamber; Capt. John D. Fredericks and S. L. Kreider will be present as speakers, except in the case of Mr. Wiggins. He is coming to listen and not to talk.

CANDIDATES TO SPEAK. Jack Foote of Los Angeles, a line-man in the employ of the Pacific Electric Railway, was lost in the mountains back of Acton from early Sunday morning until 6:30 o'clock last night, when he was found by Frank Verbeck and Squire Aldrich, two Pasadena men who had been summoned to the scene by Mrs. Foote, who was with her husband on a deer-hunting trip.

Foot left his camp at 3 a.m. Sunday and when he did not return Sunday night his wife became worried.

Foot was found by Mr. Verbeck, an old friend of the family, and himself a deer hunter. Finding Aldrich with him Verbeck made a hurried trip to Acton in an automobile. They found Foote wandering about in a canyon. He had lost all sense of direction, and had been without food for two days.

FOR PARK IMPROVEMENTS. Mode Wineman, author and camera naturalist, who has just returned from the Grand Canyon, is advocating the establishment of moderate-priced camps under governmental supervision, at picturesque points along the rim of the canyon. (EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.) SANTA ANA, Aug. 17.—Twenty years ago Orange county voted $100,000 in bonds for erecting and furnishing a county Courthouse here, a building that would cost at least $250,000 under present conditions.

Today the last of those bonds were paid off and the Courthouse is now clear of debt. The purchaser of the bonds was S. C. Rogers of Pasadena.

An unusual feature of the case is that the last bond was paid off by County Treasurer J. C. Joplin, who was also custodian of the county funds when the issue was voted twenty years ago.

IOWA TOURIST ON MOONSTONE HUNT.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.) REDONDO BEACH, Aug. 17.—People who came from the East with eyes and ears all primed to gulp down the wonders of California are often made the brunt of practical jokes, but a man from Iowa arrived here today who made himself an object of wonder among the natives.

He had heard of the moonstones of California and possibly had seen a few, any way he wanted some. So he came to Redondo Beach to get them. He went down on the shore and wandered around in an aimless fashion for some time, looking at nothing but at the ocean and the sky.

Finally after a weary wait he began inquiries. "Pardon me," he asked a passing native, "Can you tell me when the moonstones come out?"

REDLANDS BOY GETS SEASON'S FIRST DEER.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.) REDLANDS, Aug. 17.—Harold Lineau, young son of H. H. Lineau, road contractor of the city, came into Redlands last night with the first big buck killed in the section. It weighed more than 175 pounds and had three fine points.

Lineau got the buck just where he expected to get it, in a certain shady canyon on Mt. San Jacinto. He had been out looking for signs for several days and found a place where each day for almost a week before the season opened he saw signs of deer.

He was there just at daylight on the opening day, but although he saw the deer, could not get a shot. But the next day the big buck came out in the open and afforded Lineau his long-anticipated opportunity.

BEAN BALL GETS ANOTHER PLAYER.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
KALAMAZOO (Mich.) Aug. 17.—Carl Jager, amateur ball player of Plain Well, Mich., died today of injuries received in a game Sunday. He was hit on the head by a thrown ball and concussion of the brain resulted.

McCarthy Clears Eddie Mulligan of All Charges.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17.—Eddie Mulligan, third baseman of the Salt Lake club in the Pacific Coast Baseball League, who was indefinitely suspended by President McCarthy of the league today of charges by W. Baker ("Babe") Burton of the Vernon club that he accepted money to let up on his work in order to aid Vernon.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17.—Outfielder William G. Rumber of the Salt Lake club in the Pacific Coast Baseball League, who was indefinitely suspended by President McCarthy of the league today of charges by W. Baker ("Babe") Burton of the Vernon club, was cleared by the action of President McCarthy, therefore, comes as a complete surprise.

"I suppose the Salt Lake club will have to give me by unconditional release now," Rumber said. "I made a clean statement of facts in my recent affidavit concerning my making a bet of $250 with Player Burton of the Vernon club, and the club owners were satisfied to accept that affidavit and let me remain with the team. The action of President McCarthy, therefore, comes as a complete surprise."

"I insist that I did not enter into any proposition to throw or attempt to throw any game. My record shows that I played by hardest to win at all times."

Rumber said he did not learn of McCarthy's action until he read of it in an evening paper in Sacramento last night.

SALT LAKE, Aug. 17.—President Lane replied to the telegram of President McCarthy, stating strongly that the people of Salt Lake City had not the slightest intention of "whitewashing" any ball player who was in the wrong. He cited his prompt action in the Masterson case as evidence of the promptness with which action might be expected when real evidence of wrong doing appeared.

"There is not the slightest evidence of gambling in the Rumber case," President Lane declared. "His affidavit is clear and square. I most certainly shall not ruin the career of such an upright, straight-forward young athlete as Rumber on any such evidence as has been presented."

TO BE ON GROUND.
President Lane left today for San Francisco to take up, on the ground, all matters affecting the interests of the Salt Lake City club and Coast League baseball. President Lane, while approving the offer by President McCarthy of any amount of money that will produce evidence that will clean up baseball in the circuit, did not take kindly to the making of representatives of five San Francisco newspapers judges of the confluence of the evidence adduced. If newspapers are to be the arbiters, he favors each one of the eight cities in the league being represented.

TO TAKE MEDICINE.
Today's Telegram says: "The players who are willing to take their medicine like game sports, but President William H. McCarthy has got to come clean now and make his sweeping investigation go it full bounds. If he is going to make his actions in

JOHNSTON GAINS LONGWOOD BOWL

Tennis Champ Defeats Nat W. Niles in Straight Sets.

Match is Played in Conjunction With Doubles Meet.

Davis and Roberts Win After Four Hours of Play.

(BY FRED HAWTHORNE.)
CHESTNUT HILL (Boston, Mass.) Aug. 17.—William M. Johnston, national singles champion, won the famous Longwood challenge bowl outright today by defeating Nathaniel W. Niles by a score of 6-4, 6-0, 6-0 in the challenge round of the annual Longwood singles tournament.

Niles had won the tourney three weeks ago, giving him the right to challenge for the trophy. As Johnston was still on the ocean on his way home from England at the time of the final match and hence could not defend his title at the time, Niles insisted upon giving Johnston the chance to defend, and so the challenge match was arranged for today on the courts of Longwood Cricket Club, prior to playing of the second round of the men's national double championship team.

Johnston began the service, but dropped the first game on his own errors, but he made amends by breaking through Niles's service to take the second game at "love," scoring with tremendous forehand drives through his opponent's court. The national champion won three out of the next four games, giving him the lead at 5-2.

Niles fought hard for the next two games, which he won, driving with fine depth and accuracy. But all his efforts were set at naught by the Californian's terrific speed. Johnston won the tenth game, giving him the set at 6-4.

DEMONSTRATES POWER.
Then followed an impressive demonstration of the power of Johnston's game. Niles was playing well all the way through, but he simply could not stand against the vicious attack of the champion. It was largely a battle from back court, although Johnston was always ready to charge the net when he had forced his openings. Niles, on the other hand, almost invariably found it fatal to attempt to reach the net as the Californian passed him with wonderful angled shots a-court, or down the side lines.

Johnston won the next two sets without the loss of a game, making a run of thirteen straight in the match, something not believed possible against the sound tennis Niles was playing. Final score: 6-4, 6-0, 6-0.

Not only was the champion's forward drive going with excessive speed and wonderful accuracy, but on his backhand, he showed unusual strength both off the ground and on the volley. Everything that came to Johnston overhead was deemed, for the "little" with a decisiveness and deadliness that he has not shown since his return from abroad.

Some idea of the effectiveness of the champion's game today may be gained when I say that the Californian scored a total of forty-one earned points to Niles's eight, while his errors were forty-seven to Niles's fifty-four.

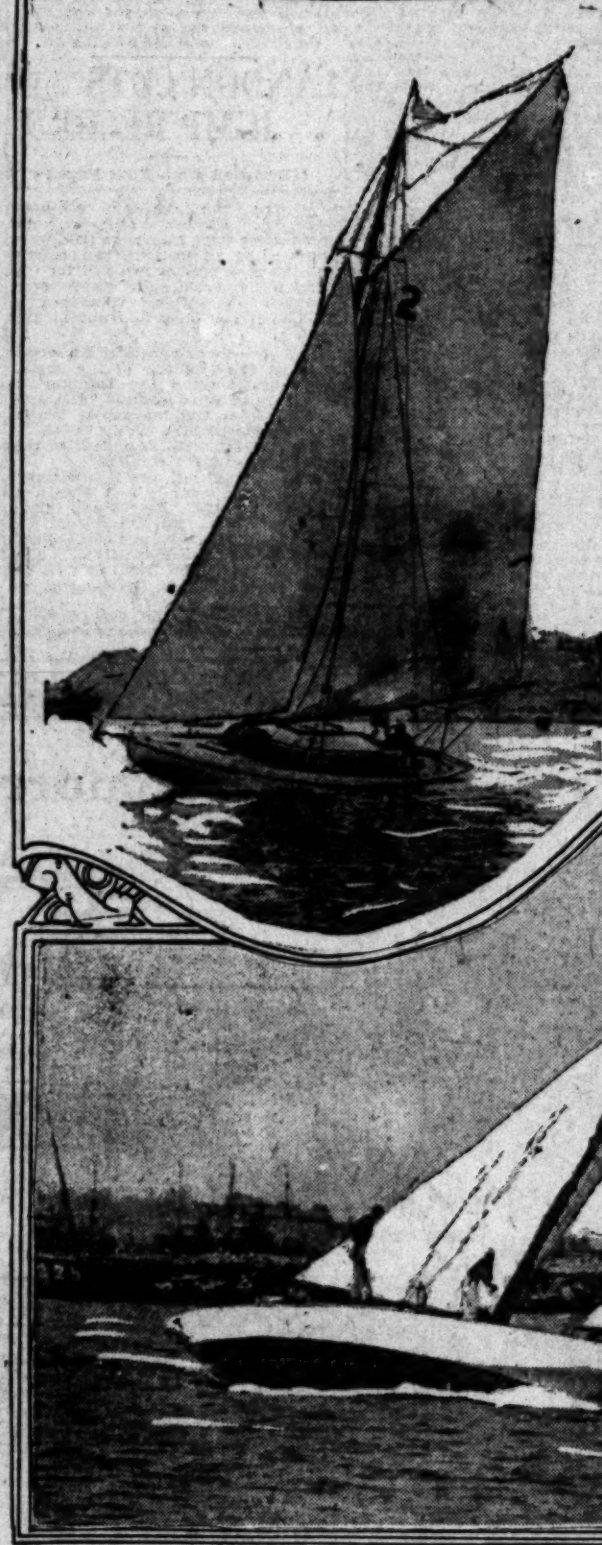

SEMI-FINALS.
National doubles, first round (completed):
W. M. Johnston and C. J. Giffen defeated J. H. Hennessey and F. Barton by default.
W. T. Hayes and R. H. Burdick defeated J. W. Foster and C. W. Wright, 6-4, 6-1, 6-0.

Second round:
J. E. Mahan and A. Trenchard defeated J. S. Hennessey and F. Barton, 6-4, 6-1, 6-0.
W. J. Johnston and A. W. Parnon defeated J. W. Foster and C. W. Wright, 6-4, 6-1, 6-0.

The Times, Los Angeles, Cal.

Dear Sir:
Why all this yelping, pointing of the scornful digit, holding of the nose and similar symptoms of nausea in connection with the Coast League "scandal?"

Why will we Americans kid ourselves, and each other, that the future of baseball is at stake, that the Coast League, to use the agitated expression of some youthful scribe, is "shaken to its very foundations by the scandalous revelations of the past few days?"

IT WILL SURVIVE.
As a matter of fact baseball will survive regardless, in fact, it's more than likely that the attendance will be increasingly large by reason of the "scandal."

We are always kidding ourselves about our high-mindedness, our purity, our appreciation of high motives in connection with sports, etc., etc., but when it comes to actually paying out our money for admission tickets we go to see the team that plays the best baseball, the fighter

LANDON SHAVES RECORD.

Yale High Jumper Boots Olympic Mark a Notch; Hurdler Yount Shut Out.

(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

ANTWERP, Aug. 17.—American athletes added to their lead in the Olympic track and field championships today, scoring well in two of the three events which were concluded. H. W. Landon of the New York A. C. set a new Olympic record of 1.935 meters in the running high jump. This is about 6 ft. 4 in.

Landon's feat was the only record-making performance of the day, although the mark was equalled in two of the semifinal heats of the 110-meter high hurdles.

In addition to Landon's first, United States leapers captured half a double tie for second honors, and two-thirds of a triple tie for fourth. The 500 and 1500-meter runs were the other finals contested today.

America did as well as expected in the former, but did not win a place in the latter. In the 500 meters, Earl Eby finished a close second to A. G. Hill of Great Britain, in the most sensational race of the meet. Hill led Eby by a foot at the tape.

B. G. Rudd, South African hurdler, was third when he faltered just before the finish. The time was 1m. 52.2-ss.

This race was run at a terrific pace all the way, and Landon, Donald Scott, the American Army runner, and A. B. Sprout of Los Angeles, who placed fifth and sixth, respectively, made it a battle with every stride.

Three hundred American Boy Scouts, who were here preparatory to the 1920 Olympic games, were on hand to cheer the American team.

YOUNG DISTANCED.
William Yount of Los Angeles reached the semifinals, but was distanced in his heat.

Just as Landon's victory in the high jump was announced, and the American flag was being elevated to the top of the stadium, King Albert entered the stands. He stood at salute until the band finished the "Star Spangled Banner," and not a great cheer when the anthem played.

ANGELS WIN WEIRD FRACAS.

Coming Home Seems to Agree With Killefer's Men.

Yipless Senators Lose Ball Game by a Run.

Entire Seraph Team Has a Fit in Fourth Inning.

BY ED O'MALLEY.

Ah ha—this time the tables were turned and Abel killed Cain, or in other words, Red Killefer, after losing twelve games on the road, each by a margin of one run, finally copped one by a single tally.

In a game at Washington Park yesterday afternoon pregnant with ludicrous incidents he bent the yipless Senators, 5 to 4.

DOES FAIRLY WELL.
Coco Malle was on the slab for the visitors and did fairly well for six innings—then his top piece got tangled and he went flippity flop.

Now, when Coco goes up in the air he is about as effective as an automobile radiator at the north pole. With his left arm doubled, crossing his thin back, it was the easiest thing in the world for the Angels to nick him good and hard in the seventh inning.

Vic Aldridge cranked it for the Angels and got by for three innings, but the fourth inning he was accidentally bringing him to the front as a specialty artist in the blunder league.

WE HAVE WITNESSED exhibitions of bumping the bumps and rodeo stunts that bordered on the phenomenal, and set our nerves a-twitter with admiration, but the goofy mix-up performed by almost the entire Angel team was something like this: Compton and Grover had scored. Ryan was on third and Sheehan at first. On an attempted squeeze play, Cook at the bat failed to connect and this balled up everything. Ryan was caught red-handed between third and home. Lapan in his hurried desire to grab Ryan lost all sense of everything but the ball. There ensued a shuttling race for a while between McDonald and Lapan, during which time the Angels' infield clustered about the entrapped Lapan. During the excitement Killefer kept shrilling, "Take off your mask, Pete—take off your mask."

BEAT IT BACK.
Lapan, awakening suddenly, jarred the mask off his head, but in doing so lost track of Ryan, who shot past him toward the plate. There stood Aldridge ready to touch Bucky, but the latter turned quickly and beat it back to third with Aldridge in hot pursuit. Vic had plenty of time to throw the ball to McDonald at third, but got it into his head he could out-foot Ryan with the result that Bucky got back in safety.

Sheehan was pretty close to the base by this time, and seeing he was blocked, turned and scuttled to second. Around Ryan

CLEARS EDDIE.

ATTORNEY WEHRIE had the following to say: "The Borton case has been turned over to me and I will make a most thorough investigation of the entire affair. I can't say just now what I will do, as I have not gone into the matter thus far to any extent, but one thing I will say and that is that I am going into the very bottom of this thing."

NOT PRESENT.
"I was not present at any of the meetings that led up to Borton's expulsion from the league. I am going through the records of the case and after that will be able to map out my course of procedure."

ELMER RIEGER, who was with the Vernon club last year for awhile and then turned over to Seattle, was at Washington Park yesterday afternoon. Rieger acknowledged that he received $100 from Borton the day following the end of the St. Paul series last fall, but declared this money was what Essick had promised him for his part of the St. Paul cut. Rieger declared the handling of the money was a perfectly legitimate transaction, and had nothing to do with anything but his promised share in the cut in case Vernon beat out St. Paul.

DUAL MEET PROPOSED FOR YANKS, BRITONS.
(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
ANTWERP, Aug. 17.—A proposal by English athletes of Oxford and Cambridge universities to have Olympic contestants from the United States compete with Great Britain's stars in a meet at Queen's Club, London, September 4, is under consideration. It was learned today. The Americans are reported to have agreed to the plan if it does not interfere with the date set for their sailing.

team-mates. Except for Tris Speaker she would see no one. Earlier she announced her intention of going to the undertaker's parlors, but later when it was learned that the body could be moved to Cleveland tonight, she declared she would wait until her arrival home. The post-mortem examination of the body brought no new information. According to the autopsy surgeon, Chapman died from a blow in the left temporal region, which fractured the skull, depressing part of the bone, which caused an internal hemorrhage. Col. Houston said he was deeply touched by Chapman's death. "I am terribly sorry that Chapman was killed," he said. "I'm sorry such an accident had to happen in our park, or that any of our team had any connection with it. It is unfortunate that it should have been Mayes who pitched the ball, too, because of the tremendous publicity he has had. I can't say any more."

FANS DISPERSE.
Thousands of fans, most of whom did not know Chapman had died, gathered to see today's game. They dispersed when told that the shortstop had died and that the game had been called off. Baseball experts declared that cases of batters being killed by pitched balls in professional games were very rare. As far as known not more than two or three have met such a death. The most recent was that of John Dodge of the Southern Association, killed about three years ago. John A. Heydler, president of the National League, announced that flags at all National League parks would be flown at half mast for the remainder of the week and that players would wear mourning insignia. Most players here donned reports from Boston and other places that there is serious opposition to permitting Mayes to play in subsequent games.

CLEVELAND (O.) Aug. 17.—Ray Chapman played in 1089 games with the Cleveland club, exclusive of exhibition games, since joining the team Aug. 12, 1912. Out of 3782 times at bat he made 1054 hits, for an average of .278, and scored 671 runs. He drew 443 bases on balls, struck out 412 times, stole 255 bases and delivered 338 sacrifice hits. He led the American League in runs in 1918, with 84. In 1913, 1917 and 1919 he led the league in sacrifice hits, setting a world's record in 1917, with sixty-seven. Chapman owned a fielding average of .958 for the nine years. In 1915 he had more putouts than any shortstop in the big leagues—375—and in 1917 he led the short fielders of his league in both putouts and assists, with 340 and 424, respectively. While he made many errors, he had been guilty of few misplays this season. While accepting more than 600 chances, he had made only twenty-eight errors. In the first two New York games here last week Chapman accepted twenty-one out of twenty-two chances, having nine assists each day.

CHICAGO, Aug. 17.—Ban Johnson, president of the American League, issued a statement today in appreciation of the baseball career of Ray Chapman, Cleveland shortstop. "Ray Chapman was a splendid character," he said. "He was loved and respected by everyone in the profession. Clean, wholesome and manly, he contributed to the high standard of baseball. His tragic death will be keenly deplored by his comrades and the many thousands who have been thrilled by his brilliant performance on the field."

SAWTELLE WIFE AND CHILD GONE

Board Train in Wisconsin to Come West; Vanish.

Hurried Departure With Idea of Surprising Husband.

Twenty-one Days Pass Before Police Aid is Asked.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 17.—A search over the western half of the continent is in progress to find Mrs. Harry H. Irvine and her 1-year-old daughter, Anna, who disappeared three weeks ago under mysterious circumstances, while en route from Coleman, Wis., to their home in Sawtelle, Cal.

The search was instituted at the request of Mrs. Irvine's brother, Frank Kleinschmidt, who appealed to the Milwaukee police for aid after receipt of a letter from Irvine on Saturday to the effect that his wife had not arrived home.

Mrs. Irvine, 33 years old and mother of three children, arrived on July 9 for a visit at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Kleinschmidt, in Coleman. She was to remain with her parents until the 1st of Oct. On July 27 she changed her mind. It is said that she wrote: "I guess I'll surprise Harry by coming home a few days sooner than he expected," she said, when she departed.

She boarded a southbound Milwaukee railroad train at Coleman on the night of July 27, and has not been seen since.

ASKS REAL QUIZ IN VENICE SCHOOL ROW.

COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT PUTS CORRESPONDENCE BEFORE GRAND JURORS.

The grand jury yesterday received from County Superintendent of Schools Keppel, correspondence covering the charge of misconduct in office against Prof. W. Y. Thornbury, recently resigned as superintendent of the Venice schools. Mr. Keppel also states that the correspondence contains him officially and personally for having written a letter of commendation to Prof. Thornbury at the close of his nine years of service to the school.

Mr. Keppel states in his letter that if the charges made are true, then, at the least, Prof. Thornbury should be compelled to reimburse the district for money paid out illegally, and Mrs. Ethel L. Lloyd and C. J. Short, trustees, should be punished for permitting him to remain in the service of the district and to draw pay after they had what they deemed conclusive knowledge of his supposed misconduct.

He says the grand jury to make a searching investigation of the whole matter to the end that the guilty may be punished and justice be done.
